WHY MERC?

CONTINUOUS UPSKILLING

MERC believes that in an emergency you do not rise to the occasion but rather sink to the level of your training. This is why we continue to push the envelope on the level of emergency intervention preparedness of the teams through our courses and educational offering.

TRAINING THROUGH COMPETITION

MERC simulates the pressure of a real-life emergency situation through competition, testing the abilities of individuals and teams to perform against deadlines in well structured, safe and consciously designed scenarios that foster collaboration and teamwork.

PREVENTION EFFECTIVENESS

MERC adheres to the old sage that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure by developing and promoting safety techniques that help avoid an emergency altogether.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

MERC believes that business and local communities are partners in keeping each other safe. As such, we are helping forge and strengthen mutually beneficial connections between resource sector companies and the communities in which they operate.

I have been participating at MERC for the last ten years. Both my team and my own personal skills have developed dramatically over this time. With this we have been able to take our skills back to the worksite and the greater members of the ERT on site which has led to being better prepared to respond when needed.

For the Pannawonica VFRS, and no doubt other teams, MERC is a great opportunity to build relationships, skills and experience. We leave every year with such an improvement in our individual responders and a much stronger team for when we get called upon in our community.
